

pharmasol Acquired by PharmaLex to Offer Turnkey End-to-End Pharmacovigilance Solutions

Decentralization of clinical trials has accelerated due to increasingly specialized trial designs and trial disruptions caused by COVID 19. The execution of these trials often requires pharmaceutical sponsors and contract research organizations (CROs) to utilize a multitude of vendors in order to ensure effective pharmacovigilance and regulatory compliance. This complexity is driving increased need for end-to-end pharmacovigilance solutions, holistic regulatory strategies, and harmonization of data interoperability.

pharmasol is a leading global life sciences services organization providing tech-enabled pharmacovigilance solutions. The company was one of the last remaining independent providers of automated safety letter distributors in the market. pharmasol's pharmacovigilance solutions provide automated data management, warehousing, and reporting, making their technology the perfect complement to PharmaLex, one of the leading pharmacovigilance consultancies in the world and a key opinion leader and subject matter expert in pharmacovigilance and safety.

Crosstree's granular knowledge of clinical regulatory services, data services, trial execution, and pharma tech industries helped pharmasol evaluate the market to find the optimal strategic partner to maximize synergies. The resulting partnership will enable PharmaLex to offer turnkey, end-to-end pharmacovigilance consulting and technology solutions to clients around the world.

Crosstree helps clients identify optimal partners to accelerate growth & enhance value for all stakeholders.
